

Ante Pre-School Home Learning Suggestions

(Pre-School learner activities are on the Transition Twitter page)

Week Beginning 1/6/20

Monday

Emma's Literacy activity:

Loose parts writing: Can you use any loose parts from around your house to write your name? You could make some shapes or a picture using loose parts too. I used forks, jigsaw pieces, pens and cake cases. What will you use?

Jill's Numeracy activity:

Measuring experiment. Make some fill lines on any empty juice or milk jug. Put some water in the bottom. Drop stones or coins into the jug. What happens to the water? Can you count how many stones/coins it takes for the water to move to the next fill line?

Stacey's Health and Wellbeing activity:

Looking after the wildlife: Can you think of any ways to attract some wildlife to your garden or a space you like to walk to? You could maybe even make a bird feeder or a bug hotel?

Tuesday

Diane's Literacy activity:

Painting without a paint brush or paint!: Did you know you can make your own mark making tools using natural objects you find outside? Pine cones, twigs, leaves and grass make excellent mark making tools and you can make paint by using mud or flowers crushed with a little bit of water. Don't forget to share your natural mark making with us on Twitter!

Brenda's Numeracy activity:

Counting to 20 for 20 seconds: You might remember our handwashing song. We talked about how the song lasted for 20 seconds. Can you count to 20? Here is one of our favourite nursery songs that helps with counting to 20.

Watch out for the YouTube channel video from Emma today too. She might just give us a demonstration!

Fiona M's Health and Wellbeing activity:

Preparing a meal: Can you help to make a meal? It could be tea for the whole family or even just lunch or a snack for you? Talk about what ingredients you used and your method. Did you help clean up too? Do you like helping? Was your food yummy?

Wednesday

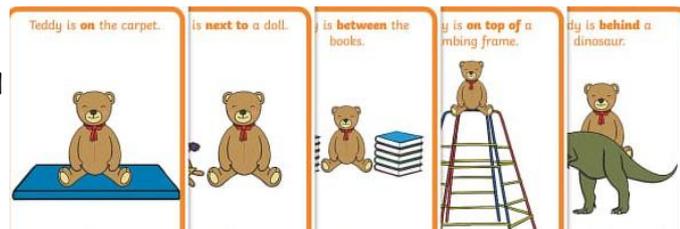

Katie's Literacy activity:

Story Making: Thinking of your favourite story. Can you think of a different ending or a different adventure the characters could go on? Tell a grown up your new story. You could even act it out or draw a picture if you like?

Carol's Numeracy activity:

Positional Language: Using a number line or your fingers can you talk about which number comes before and after. Can you place an object on, under, in and beside. For example; "Can you put the brick in the cup?"

Kay's Health and Wellbeing activity:

Needs of others: When we were in nursery you helped to take care of Jonathan the Giant African Land Snail. Can you talk about how to look after someone or something you care about? What do they need? How do you care for them?

Thursday

Fiona L's Literacy activity:

Aqua doodle: Using water and a paintbrush, either outside or on a coloured piece of paper can you make marks? You could make a picture, write your name or even just "paint" the shed. What happens to your picture when the water dries?

Leah's Numeracy activity:

What number comes next?:

Ask an adult to sing your favourite number rhyme, lots of the songs on the Nursery YouTube channel are number rhymes too. Can you predict what number comes next in the song before we sing it? Use your fingers to help if you like.

Susan's Health and Wellbeing activity:

Photography: When in your garden or on a walk can you have a good look around and talk about what you see in relation to the seasons? Ask your adult if you can take some photos of the animals or trees or anything else you can think of if you don't have a camera don't worry you could pretend. We would love to see some of your photography skills on Twitter.
