

Ante Pre-School Nursery Home Learning Suggestions

(Pre-School learning activities are on the @p1_2020 transition page).

Week beginning 15/6/20

Monday

Kay's Literacy activity:

Story Scavenger Hunt: Can you pick 3 things from the pictures in your favourite story book(s) that you might be able to find in real life. For example if you chose the hungry caterpillar you might be able to find an apple or a leaf. Look at and discuss the real item compared to the picture.

Katie's Numeracy activity

Monster Counting: Look at this picture: Can you count the monsters' legs/arms/eyes/horns/teeth?

Carol's Health and Wellbeing activity:

Nature Jewellery: One of our learners shared a picture of her making a nature bracelet at the hub. Can you make a piece of nature jewellery? It could be a bracelet too, maybe a crown or whatever you can think of? Make sure to share your creations on Twitter so we can see them.

Tuesday

Susan's Literacy activity:

You can't trick me!: Listen to a story of your choice either on the YouTube channel or you can ask an adult to read one to you. When the story is finished an adult will try to trick you by retelling the story with characters that weren't in the story. Were you listening? Did they catch you out?

Fiona L's Numeracy activity:

How far can you throw?: The School has recently taken part in virtual sports week. In preparation for the nursery virtual sports week next week can you practise the welly toss? How far did you throw the welly? You could try with different items a bean bag, a ball, a pair of rolled up socks and try to guess which one will go furthest.

Leah's Health and Wellbeing activity: Dance Time:

Dancing is a great way to stay active. Have a look at all the different dances on our YouTube Channel. We'd love to see your grown up dancing with you on Twitter. 😊

Wednesday

Fiona M's Literacy activity:

Story Den: Try to build a story Den. You could look at some of your stories, listen to an audio book or watch some of the nursery stories on YouTube in your Den.

If you build it big enough an adult or older sibling might be able to fit in too and read you a story.

Diane's Numeracy activity:

Maths picture: Last week we looked at how stones can help us to learn lots of different maths concepts. This week can you try making a shape or pattern picture with loose parts to explore these concepts? You could use buttons, pom poms, pasta, lentils, anything small works really.

Brenda's Health and Wellbeing activity:

How do we know?: Kayleigh has been teaching us how to use sign language. Can you think about what else helps us to understand the world around us that doesn't involve reading or talking? Road signs, shop signs, posters, traffic lights name a few. If you were going on the bus where do you wait? How do you tell the driver you want to get off the bus?

Thursday

Jill's Literacy activity:

Name Cards: One of our activities recently was to help make a meal or snack. Can you make name cards for your family members like the ones we had in nursery? Ask a grown up to help you write your family members' names. You could draw some pictures to go with the names if you like. Don't forget to post your name when you've finished.

Stacey's Numeracy activity:

Number Dot to dot: Ask an adult to write some large numbers down on paper. Using a Felt tip or marker pen decorate each number with the matching number of dots. Trace the number with your finger counting the dots as you go.

Emma's Health and Wellbeing activity:

Friendship Messages: Last week we sang the hello song to you, can you record a hello message for your nursery friends/ staff? We'd love to see them on Twitter.
